Numb. 510.

THE Pennſylvania GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

FROM SEPTEMBER 14. TO SEPTEMBER 21. 1738.

KINGSALE, June 2.

SOME Time ago Capt. John Maddox, Commander of the Charming Sally, of Briſtol, in his Paſſage home from Guinea and Jamaica, about 300 Leagues Weſtward of Ireland, unfortunately ſtruck againſt a Grampus of a prodigious Size; which was, as ſuppoſed, ſleeping. The Ship gave a terrible Bounce, ſurpriz'd all the Hands, and overſet Cheſts, &c. in the Cabin and between Decks. As it was by Day, they plainly ſaw the Fiſh, and believe the Ship's Keel, when ſhe ran over it, cut it in a very terrible Manner, the Sea being all ſtain'd with his Blood. The Wind being very high, the Seas lofty, and the Ship ſcudding under her fore Courſe, riffed, they ſoon got out of the Sight thereof; but before they loſt Sight of it, they did not obſerve the Creature to be in any Motion, ſo that it is ſuppos'd he was mortally wounded or kill'd. The Ship immediately complain'd; and upon finding her to make her Water very faſt, they broke up part of her Ceiling, and diſcover'd the Hood Ends give Way, and her Bows all open: To prevent foundering, they ſtuff'd in Pieces of Beef and Pork between the Planks and Stem, in order to preſerve Life; and ſo by continual Pumping, kept her above Water for five Days; at which Time the Men were quite ſpent with hard Labour and Deſpair; but then, happily eſpy'd a Sail, which they made up to, found her to be a Sloop from Portugal, bound to Cork. Capt. Maddox had juſt Time to bring off his Gold and Gold Duſt, and ſome Proviſions for his Men, till their Arrival at Cork, where to their great Comfort, they arrived in a few Days.

PETERSBURG, June 6. The late Seraſquier of Oczakow, who is a Priſoner here, having ſent his Secretary to Conſtantinople for neceſſary Powers to treat of a Peace, had this Anſwer; Thou mayſt return to the Unbelievers, and tell Jahia Baſhaw, that before ſending thee, he ought to have known that his Sublime Highneſs is not accuſtomed to treat of Peace by means of either Slaves or Priſoners, and therefore he has no full Powers to ſend him.

VIENNA, June 10. 'Tis confirm'd that there has been a ſharp Rencounter between the Imperial and Turkiſh Troops, on the Frontiers of Temeſwaer. It happened on the firſt Inſtant, on the North ſide of the Danube, between Media and old Orſova. The Imperialiſts being poſted there, with three Battalions and 400 Horſe, to ſupport Orſova, a Place of great Importance, not only for a Magazine's being erected there, but becauſe it cover'd the Iſle of Pega: The Enemy came early in the Morning, and after haraſſing our Troops with ſmall Detachments till two in the Afternoon, they then approach'd with at leaſt 8000 Men, and attack'd the moſt advanc'd Poſts with ſuch a furious Fire, that the Imperialiſts, after having defended themſelves with great Bravery till 6 a clock at Night, were obliged to retire, which they did in good Order. Their Commander, Major General Count de Miſeroni, was killed in the Action, after having had ſix Wounds; and 'tis computed that we loſt near 400 Soldiers; but the Loſs to the Infidels amounts to above 2000.

VIENNA, June 11. Count Picolomini, according to the laſt Advices from Hungary, was very ſoon a Witneſs of the fatal Conſequences of the Loſs of Media; having, after the Surrender of that Place, been eſcorted by 1200 Turks to Carenſebes, near Temeſwaer, was there preſented with the melancholy Proſpect of the Deſtruction of many Towns and Villages in the Bannat, which were plundred and burnt by the Infidels, and the vagabond Inhabitants who joined them. Since the Loſs of that Fortreſs, the Turks enter the Bannat in great Numbers. Theſe unhappy Circumſtances occaſioned a Council of War to be held at Belgrade, in which it was reſolved to aſſemble the Grand Army near Temeſwaer, in order, if poſſible, to drive the Turks from the Bannat. Orders have been alſo ſent to ſome Troops in Tranſilvania to march towards the Frontiers of the Bannat, to be ready in caſe of need to reinforce the Army that is to be formed there.

The Turks, after taking Old Orſova, advanced to Meadia, a conſiderable Fort & Paſs, & tho' repulſed pulſed in ſeveral Attacks, obliged the Governor who, fearing Doxat's Fate, had firſt obtain'd leave from Court, to ſurrender. The Enemy by this Conqueſt have opened their Way into the Banyat of Temeſwaer, which has felt their Ravages; they have alſo inveſted and ſummoned New Orſova. Mean time our Army is not yet aſſembled; and the Ruſſians but juſt got in their March. And yet the Emperor has a new Enemy to oppoſe in as unprovided a Quarter, the King of Sardinia having taken this Opportunity to ſeize on Serravalla in the Milaneſe.

LONDON, June 15. At Amſterdam they have Letters from Bengal by the Philibert, a French Eaſt-India Ship lately arrived at Port l'Orient in France, which confirm the dreadful Storm that happen'd in the Bay of Bengal on the 30th of September laſt, where almoſt all the Ships on that Coaſt were caſt away; among which were 8 Engliſh, 2 Dutch, 1 French, and ſeveral Thouſand Indian Hoys, &c. And at the ſame Time there was a terrible Inundation in divers Parts of the Kingdom of Bengal, and other neighbouring Countries.

The Paris A la Main, which is dated laſt Saturday ſays, that the River Ganges, which falls into the Bay of Bengal, roſe above Seventy Foot; that the Engliſh and Dutch Factories and Ware-Houſes were thereby laid under Water; that above 26 Ships were loſt in that River, and above 300,000 Perſons drown'd, beſides a great Number of Wild Beaſts, &c. but that the French had the Luck to ſuſtain no Damage by the ſaid Inundation.

The Writer of the Paris Letter adds, that People conclude the Differences betwixt the Courts of Spain and Great Britain accommodated, becauſe laſt Sunday ſe'nnight the Marquis de la-Mina, who is the Spaniſh Ambaſſador at that Court, gave a grand Entertainment to my Lord Waldegrave the Ambaſſador of Great Britain.

The Utrecht Gazetteer ſays, in an Article from Cadiz of the 7th of May, N. S. That 6 Men of War are fitting out there with all Expedition, to ſail in 4 or 5 Days, under the Command of Admiral Pizarro for the Havanna, to be ready for Action in caſe any Hoſtilities ſhould be committed there by the Engliſh; that Pleuriſies and Fevers are ſo rife in and about Cordova, that above 500 People die in a Day, and that near 25,000 are ſick in the City of Seville, which Diſtempers are aſcrib'd to the Scarcity of Corn in that Kingdom for 4 or 5 Years paſt.

'Tis ſaid the Courts of Sweeden and Denmark have concluded a Treaty of Commerce, whereby they contract to ſupport the Trade and Navigation of each Nation to China againſt all Oppoſers.

Extract of a Letter from CADIZ, dated June 3. N. S.

The St. Joſeph, alias la Jeruſalem, Capt. Talla Piedra, the Havannah Regiſter, arrived here laſt Night. The ſix Sail of Men of War for the Weſt-Indies are gone clear away this Morning. We are ſtill much in the Dark what to determine about the Times: Our preſent Apprehenſions are very prejudicial to Buſineſs; and Prudence requires every one to be prepar'd againſt the Worſt.

All Thoughts of the Flota have been drop'd for ſome Time paſt, and we muſt wait the Reſult of the preſent Negotiations, to form any Judgment when theſe Ships will ſail.

June 17. Large Quantities of Diamonds have been landed from on Board the Nottingham, Capt. Winter, from Bombay, on account of the Merchants of this City.

On Thurſday at the South Sea Company's Sale, the Cocoa Nuts ſold upon an Average at eight Guineas per Hundred.

The ſame Day came Advice from Portſmouth, of the Arrival of his Majeſty's Ship the Faulkland, from Lisbon, having on Board a large Quantity of Gold and Silver on account of the Merchants of this City.

Thurſday about Three a Clock in the Afternoon, a Fire broke out at St. Giles's Work-houſe, occaſion'd, as 'tis ſaid, by the Head of a Still flying off in the Apothecary's Apartment, as he was preparing Medicines for the Sick, and burnt with ſuch Fury, that in two Hours, notwithſtanding the great Aſſiſtance of Neighbours, Firemen, and about a dozen Engines, the greateſt Part of the Houſe was conſum'd. In this great Confuſion ſeveral Children, as well as ancient People, were thrown out of the Windows in Blankets, and catch'd by the Populace; divers others were dragged down Ladders; ſome had their Legs and Arms broke, others ſcorch'd and burnt in a terrible manner; ſeveral of them are ſent to St. Thomas's Hoſpital. None of the Poor loſt their Lives. The adjacent Houſe belonging to a Tradeſman, ſuffered much by the Flames. The Damage done to the Work-houſe is computed at about 600 l.

Extract of a Letter from Conſtantinople, April 27.

THE Affairs with reſpect to a Peace with the Chriſtian Powers are ſtill in the ſame Situation, notwithſtanding the Endeavours of the mediating Ambaſſadors to perſwade the Ottoman Miniſtry to enter into pacifick Meaſures. The Divan affects, at leaſt outwardly, a Deſire to continue the War. Nevertheleſs nothing is more certain than that the Affairs of this Empire are in extreme Confuſion. The Fleet which has been ſo long preparing at a prodigious Coſt, is not in a Condition to do any thing; nor have we any great Opinion here of the future Exploits of the Ottoman Army. Count Bonneval continues in this Capital, and will not make the Campaign at all; he is very well with the Grand Vizier, correſponds regularly with him, and, it is ſaid, adviſes him by no means to hazard a Battle with the Chriſtian Army without the utmoſt Neceſſity; he is very much eſteemed by all the other Miniſters of the Porte. The Grand Seignior is ſo beloved of the People, that they call him The Shadow of God.

July 3. On Saturday laſt between nine and ten a Clock at Night, a dreadful Fire broke out at the the Sugar-Houſe belonging to Meſſrs. Kid, Harding and Company, in Fruiters Alley, between the Three Cranes and Brick Lane, which rag'd with great Fury for about Five Hours, and in that Time conſum'd the Sugar-Houſe, the Dwelling-Houſe, the Rev. Mr. Hill's Meeting-Houſe, and about 20 other Houſes and Ware-houſes. The Damage cannot eaſily be computed. About five Years ago a Sugar-Houſe on the ſame Spot was burnt down.

We have Advice, that 10,000 Troops are aſſembled near Barcelona and Malaga, and that a Number of Tranſports were getting ready with all poſſible Diſpatch for their Embarkation, but upon what Deſign is kept very ſecret.
